Current professional activities

David is known for his ability to listen and resolve business challenges.

David specialises in insolvency, restructuring and business turnaround. He brings extensive experience in financial due diligence, forensic accounting and litigation support, particularly in court-appointed matters and commercial disputes.

He accepts appointment as voluntary administrator, deed administrator, scheme administrator, liquidator, receiver, small business restructuring practitioner and various Court-appointed roles. Previously, he held senior positions at KPMG and PKF (now BDO).

David acts as a Court-appointed Trustee and Receiver in matters involving partnership disputes and various property types, including residential, commercial, industrial, and rural assets. His role often involves taking possession of property, formulating and executing realisation strategies, and providing detailed accounting to the Court and Parties. In dispute matters, he prioritises Court Orders while consulting stakeholders to achieve the most efficient outcomes. His established network of property valuers and advisers enhances his strategic approach.

As a trusted advisor to accountants, lawyers, fund managers and stakeholders of financially distressed businesses, David provides guidance to businesses navigating financial distress, unexpected events, or disputes.

Industry experience

Accommodation and food services, agribusiness, construction and property, education and training, healthcare, pharmacy, manufacturing, mining services, professional and personal services, retail trade, wholesale trade, transport, warehousing, distribution, technology and communications.

Co-ordination of complex negotiations

David has co-ordinated complex or commercially sensitive negotiations with a wide range of stakeholders to achieve or negotiate outcomes, or to prepare for mediation or litigation.

Relationships

David is known for his strong local knowledge, connections and professional associations, and his outcome-driven focus achieves results. He maintains an excellent reputation in the market to build trust and achieve results, quickly and efficiently, on large and small matters, nationally.
